Bias in Relative Abundance Indices vs Method

Rows are trends in relative abundance of target species and the average degree of hook saturation,
Columns are correlation of target species' abundance with saturation events